Finally, aftermarket services with no afterthought.
The AMS Group makes it easy! No need for you to find and manage multiple vendors, navigate your way through complex logistical issues, deal with regulatory agencies and utilities, or supervise a variety of individual resources. The AMS Group's project management team will do all that and more for you with a “one-stop shop” approach to every project/program that includes conceptual development, design, equipment, installation and maintenance. Your life is simplified by having an AMS Group project manager serve as your single, focused point of contact for all communication. One call does it all!
